WHAT TO EXPECT

This conference will explore the ethics of witness in healthcare, from concept to practice. It includes a variety of perspectives, from those who consider the potential negative consequences of sharing to those who identify witness as an essential aspect of care. Several scholars will present papers from various viewpoints followed by responses. Participants will have opportunities to dialogue with scholars and colleagues as they explore the topic.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

All leaders, practitioners, faculty, staff and students interested in the ethics of witness in healthcare (campus and community)
