The SIMS and CAPS offices are excited to announce this year's winners of the LLUServe survey drawing!

Winners are: Ioana Danci from the School of Medicine and David Rosenblatt from the School of Behavioral Health. Ioana and David, recipients of an iPad mini or SIMS travel voucher.

Students were randomly selected as winners from a pool of 781 LLU students who completed the LLUServe survey during the early weeks of April.

The SIMS/CAPS LLUServe survey gauges student attitudes regarding local and international service opportunities offered through Loma Linda University.

Survey results will help the SIMS and CAPS offices to determine how best to communicate with students regarding service opportunities, as well as remove barriers that prevent students from engaging in service during their academic experience at LLU.

Again, congratulations Ioana and David, and thank you to all the students who took the time to provide SIMS and CAPS with their valuable feedback.
