Ellen G. White & Inspiration Pastoral Conference

This Conference for pastors is sponsored by the Ellen G. White Estate, the Heritage Research Center, and the School of Religion at Loma Linda University. Its purpose is to assist pastors in relating to issues in Adventism and pastoral ministry. Spouses are always welcome to attend.

This year's timely seminar covers the nature and scope of inspiration, the historical development of the Adventist understanding of inspiration and Ellen White, and the role of divine accommodation and cultural conditioning in inspired writings. Additionally, there will be a special report on the process behind annotating the letters and manuscripts of Ellen White, an invaluable resource to all who seek to better understand Ellen White and inspiration.

Alberto R. Timm, PhD, is Associate Director of the Ellen G. White Estate and a member of the Biblical Research Institute Committee. A specialist in the development of SDA doctrines and theology, he has previously served as a district pastor, director of the Brazilian Ellen G. White-SDA Research Center, Dean of the Graduate School of Theology, Sao Paulo Adventist University College, and Rector of the Latin-American Adventist Theological Seminary as well as Spirit of Prophecy Coordinator for the South American Division.

Stanley D. Hickerson, M. Div., is Annotation Project Editor of the Ellen G. White Estate based out of the Center for Adventist Research in Berrien Springs, Michigan. With extensive research experience and knowledge of Adventist history, he has been heavily involved with Adventist Heritage Ministries in acquiring and restoring homes and buildings linked with Adventist pioneers. He has previously served as a pastor of several churches in Michigan and California.
