

LOMA LINDA UNIVERSITY
School of Religion

Humanities Program

Oct - Dec 2017 calendar
Noteworthy Loma Linda Area Events

In an effort to encourage enrichment through the humanities and the arts, the School of Religion sponsors a number of events throughout the year. There are many worthy humanities events in the area, and this calendar highlights some events that may aid in the pursuit of a more whole life.

OCTOBER

 14 Saturday Panel Discussion

What: Will Women's Ordination Split the Church?
Where: LLU University Church
When: 3:00 PM
Contact: Humanities Program, School of Religion, LLU (909)558- 5925
Will Women's Ordination Split the Church? will be discussed by a panel consisting of Pastor Randy Roberts , President Sandy Roberts, Pacific Union Communication Director Ray Tetz, and Dean Jon Paulien. Loma Linda University Church. This event will be sponsored by the Association of Adventist Women and the LLU School of Religion Humanities Program.

 18 Wednesday Lecture

What: Happiness and Health: Enriching Life with Healthy Pleasures, presented by David Sobel, MD, MPH
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
Contact: Wil Alexander Wholeness Series Workshop, LLU (909) 558-1000, ext. 83378
When: 5:00 PM
Learn how scientific evidence suggests that doing what is pleasurable, from sensory delights to selfless pleasures, from optimism to laughter, pays off twice: immediate enjoyment and better health.

 25 Wednesday Panel Discussion

What: The Opioid Epidemic (panel format)
Where: A-level Amphitheater, LLU Medical Center
When: 1:00 PM
Contact: Center for Christian Bioethics, School of Religion, LLU (909) 558-7022
Every day, 91 Americans die from an opioid overdose. Please join us for an informative panel discussion providing balanced perspectives on the challenges of managing patient's pain without adding to the epidemic.

 28-29 Saturday, Sunday Play

What: 1984, the play
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
When: Sat. 7:30pm | Sun. 3:00pm
Contact: Humanities Program, School of Religion, LLU (909)558-5925
George Orwell's horrifying political dystopian novel, 1984, comes to life in an adaptation by Robert Owens, Wilton E. Hall Jr, and William A. Miles, Jr. Oceania, what was once London, is controlled by a totalitarian government, where the political party leader, Big Brother, uses advanced technology as a way to control the citizens. In this world of fear, anger, and paranoia, Winston Smith remains focused on changing the past to suit the party, until he falls in love with Julia, a spirited young, co-worker. Against all odds, they fight to uncover the truth of the past and the truth of Big Brother. But can love prevail in a world where everyone is already considered dead?

NOVEMBER

 1 Wednesday Film

What: Phil's Camino: A Short film about a Long Walk, Presented by Annie O'Neil, the Film Producer
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
When: 5:00 PM
Contact: Wil Alexander Wholeness Series Workshop, LLU (909) 558-1000, ext. 83378
For years, Phil dreamt of walking the 500-mile ancient pilgrimage route across Spain, El Camino de Santiago. Although at first this was an unattainable dream due to stage-IV cancer and weekly chemo treatments, Phil found that the rhythm of walking presented ""healing"" in a way never before experienced.

 4-5 Saturday, Sunday Play

What: 1984, the play
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
When: 7:00 PM
Contact: Humanities Program, School of Religion, LLU (909)558-5925
See information listed for October 28 & 29.

 11 Saturday Panel Discussion

What: Evolutionary Creation—An Oxymoron?
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
When: 3:00 PM
Contact: Humanities Program, School of Religion, LLU (909)558-5925
Biology Professor April Maskiewicz (of Point Loma Nazarene University) will make the case for the compatibility of a high view of Scripture and biological evolution. Three brief responders follow the lecture: Kerby Oberg, a LLU medical researcher; Ronny Nalin, a Geoscience Research Institute researcher, and Marlene Ferreras, a La Sierra University theologian. Jim Walters will moderate. The panel discussion will be followed by audience Q&A."

LOMA LINDA UNIVERSITY
School of Religion

Humanities Program

Oct - Dec 2017 calendar
Noteworthy Loma Linda Area Events

 15 Wednesday Lecture

What: Ethical Oversight in Institutional Research: Tips for Researchers, presented by: Gerald Winslow, PhD, and Oleksandr Dubov, PhD
Where: A-level Amphitheater, LLU Medical Center
When: 12:00 PM
Contact: Center for Christian Bioethics, School of Religion, LLU (909) 558-7022
 Loma Linda University's Institutional Review Board (IRB) provides oversight for all clinical and basic science research conducted on campus. The IRB has two ethicists who analyze and give advice on potential ethics conflicts that may emerge by conducting research. Hear directly from the IRB's ethicists about how to identify and minimize ethical conflict within your study's design.

 15 Wednesday Lecture

What: Nurturing Wholeness in Relationships, presented by Barbara Hernandez, PhD, MFT
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
When: 5:00 PM
Contact: Wil Alexander Wholeness Series Workshop, LLU (909) 558-1000, ext. 83378
 Dr. Hernandez will discuss the impact of relationship quality on social, emotional and physical health. Tools will be provided for enriching and understanding close relationships.

 25 Saturday Concert

What: Heritage Singers Concert
Where: LLU University Church
When: 4:30 PM
Contact: For more information about tickets, please call (909)558-4570
 This is the annual Heritage concert at LLU. They will be performing with the Heritage Band once again. This is a free admission event.

 29 Wednesday Lecture

What: Teamwork in Action: a Powerful Story of Interprofessional Collaboration
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
When: 5:00 PM
Contact: Wil Alexander Wholeness Series Workshop, LLU (909) 558-1000, ext. 83378
 Hear the true story of the interprofessional collaboration of a medical team who saved the lives of two young car-accident victims

DECEMBER

 1,2 Friday, Saturday Concert

What: 70th La Sierra University Candle Light Concert
Where: La Sierra University Church
When: Fri. 7:30pm | Sat. 4:00pm
Contact: For more information about tickets, Please call (951)785-2036
 The La Sierra University Department of Music invites you and your families to attend the 70th Annual Candlelight Concert this December! There will be TWO showings of the Candlelight Concert. Candlelight will feature talents from various music ensembles. This event will take place at the La Sierra University Church. Limited reserved seating will be available at $10. General seating is open and free.

 2 Saturday Lecture

What: Hinduism at LLU
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
When: 3:00 PM
Contact: Center for Understanding World Religions, School of Religion, LLU (909)558- 5925
 Presentations and panel featuring Hindu scholars & Loma Linda faculty and students

 6 Wednesday Concert

What: The Beauty of Christmas: A Concert by Alessandra Sorace
Where: Centennial Complex, Damazo Amphitheater
When: 5:00 PM
Contact: Wil Alexander Wholeness Series Workshop, LLU (909) 558-1000, ext. 83378
 In celebration of the Christmas season, join Alessandra Sorace in a musical journey back to the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem.

 9 Saturday Concert

What: LLU Christmas Candle Light Concert
Where: LLU University Church
When: 4:00 PM and 6:30 PM
Contact: For more information about tickets, please call (909)558-4570
 The music department of LLUC presents the Christmas Candlelight Concert! This concert will involve choirs, orchestra and audience participation. To purchase tickets, go to lluc.org and click on the banner.