"The Developing Brain"
Timothy R. Jennings M.D.

President-Elect of the Tennessee Psychiatric Association
Adjunct Faculty at the University of Tennessee College of Medicine,
Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association
Vice-President of the Southern Psychiatric Association
Fellow in Neuropsychopharmacology, Author and International Speaker

Friday, October 24, 2014, 11:00am - 12:30pm
LLU Behavioral Health Institute
1868 Barton Road, First Floor Education Room, #1100 Redlands CA 92373

About the talk: Experience changes brain structure and function. Beginning before conception, continuing in utero and throughout life, explore how environment, experience and choice alter human DNA and impact brain structure and function. The human brain is plastic and changeable and our experiences cause our brain to change. This change begins in our parents’ genes prior to our conception, continues in the womb and persists throughout life. In this presentation we will explore how our parental choices affect the developing brain and follow that through into childhood to explore how healthy nurturing, traumatic experience, diet, addictive substances, medicines, and even belief in God alter our genes, brain structure and brain function.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:
1. Discuss environmental influences to brain development
2. Recognize the significance of transgenerational epigenetic influences to human DNA and brain function
3. Identify specific interventions to promote healthy brain development

We also extend an invitation to all interested parties to attend a special seminar by Dr. Jennings on Friday October 24, 2014 at the Centennial Complex – Damazo Amphitheater at 19:00. "The God-Shaped Brain: How Changing Your View of God Transforms Your Life."
